

Seminar Content

BAD MARRIAGE - BETTER DIVORCE

Divorce and family mediation

	Page
1	Pitfalls of the adversarial system of litigation 3
1.1	Prevalence of marriage breakdown in SA 3
1.2	Effects of family breakdown 3
1.3	Our system for resolving family breakdown 3
1.4	Effects of the adversarial system of litigation 5
1.5	Alternative non-litigious methods of dispute resolution 8
2	Definition and features of mediation 9
2.1	Introduction 9
2.2	Definition 9
2.3	Features 9
2.4	Which matters should be mediated? 12
2.5	When should mediation take place? 13
2.6	Child-informed mediation 14
2.7	The advantages and disadvantages of mediation 15
3	Legal provision for family mediation 19
3.1	Introduction 19
3.2	Legislative provision for family mediation 19
3.3	Judicial provision for child-focussed mediation 30
4	Role of the mediator and different styles of mediation 34
4.1	The role of the mediator 34
4.2	Who should act as mediators 34
4.3	Different styles of mediation 35
5	The mediation process 38
5.1	Introduction 38
5.2	The orientation and introductory stage 38
5.3	The information and analysis or definition stage 42
5.4	The negotiation stage 47
5.5	The settlement or agreement stage 51
5.6	The contracting stage 53

6	Mediator skills and strategies	53
6.1	Introduction	53
6.2	Active and passive listening and mediator silence	54
6.3	Summarising	54
6.4	Mutualising	55
6.5	Reframing or rephrasing	55
6.6	Refocusing	56
6.7	Normalising	56
6.8	Neutralising and retaining the perceptions of neutrality	57
6.9	Power balancing or equalising	57
6.10	Getting in sync with the parties	57
6.11	Humour	58
6.12	Questioning	58
6.13	Option generation and brainstorming	58
6.14	Commenting on the process	59
6.15	Climbing over the brick wall	59
6.16	Reality testing and role reversal	59
6.17	Giving thanks and praise	60
7	A very brief introduction to other appropriate alternative dispute resolution processes	61
7.1	Introduction	61
7.2	Collaborative practice	61
7.3	Parenting coordination	65
	Annexure A - Agreement to mediate
	Annexure B - Assets and liabilities statement
	Annexure C - Maintenance calculation	